

The Comprehensive Learning Center

A nonprofit program for the education and training of individuals with autism

The Comprehensive Learning Center (CLC), established in 2000, is seeking qualified applicants to fill the position of Executive Director. CLC is a private, non-profit program for individuals with autism located in Southampton, Pennsylvania. CLC's education program currently serves 19 students, ages 3 to 21 years. Plans for future expansion include development of an adult program. Intervention services at CLC are based upon the principles of applied behavior analysis.

Viable candidates will have earned a graduate degree (preferably a doctoral degree) in psychology, special education, or a related field; and have at least three years of clinical experience in applied behavior analysis and autism intervention. Vita entries should include evidence of professional writing and speaking skills. The CLC Board of Trustees is currently evaluating the merits of becoming a dissemination site of the Princeton Child Development Institute (PCDI), and has commenced negotiations with PCDI toward that end. If an agreement is reached between CLC and PCDI, the new Executive Director will serve a paid residency of up to 12 months at PCDI prior to assuming responsibilities at CLC. The residency would tentatively begin in September 2010, immediately following which the selected candidate will return to CLC and assume the role of Executive Director.

For more information about CLC's programs, please visit our website (www.clcschool.net). Information about PCDI can be found on their website (www.pcdi.org). Compensation includes a competitive salary commensurate with training and experience, and a full benefits package. Interested applicants should send their vita to Michele M. Meyer, President, The Comprehensive Learning Center, 150 James Way, Southampton, PA 18966.
