Event Overview:

On March 3, 2012, Autism New Jersey will be organizing a 3rd Annual Casino Night Charity Fundraiser in East Brunswick, NJ.

Up to 200 people will convene in the East Brunswick Hilton. Attendees will enjoy a fun evening of playing “the tables” and entering in tournaments like our Texas Hold’em. The event will include a grand buffet and full open bar.

What does this event have to do with autism?

The odds of your child being diagnosed with autism are, unfortunately, much higher than many games of chance featured at the event. 1 in 110 individuals is diagnosed with autism nationwide; That’s 1% of all children. In New Jersey, 1 in 94 individuals have an autism spectrum disorder. Autism is a developmental disability characterized by atypical, repetitive behaviors and deficits in social and communication skills.

- Do we know why the numbers are so high? No
- Do we have a cure? No
- Is there hope? Yes

The Casino Night Charity Fundraiser is exactly that- a fundraiser. Aside from the current budget cuts that organizations like Autism New Jersey are dealing with, families that have children on the autism spectrum are in a constant financial battle to support their loved ones. Parents who are desperate to learn ways to communicate with their children are often weighed down by costs for workshops or even resources to get the information they need. Autism New Jersey provides these services free of charge. To keep helping these families, we need your support.

Your support of this event will enable Autism New Jersey to:

- Provide education, training, referrals and assistance to families throughout New Jersey.
- Conduct one of the nation’s largest autism conferences for families and professionals.
- Advocate for services for individuals throughout the life span.
